Contribution of primary health care teams to equity in universal access to health services

Published On: September 13, 2019 | Pages: 003 - 007

Author(s): Gustavo Bergonzoli* and Lina María García Zapata

Since Alma Ata Declaration, 40 years ago, the Health Service Systems has undergone signifi cant changes, but those achievements are unevenly distributed, with an increasing number of people without coverage by basic health services. Advances in technology, including the arrival of big data, together with the adoption of evidence-based care models have been transformat ...
